

Write-In Drive Seen for Palm Springs Vote

Opposition Reported On Redistricting of City's Councilmen

A write-in campaign for the special Palm Springs city election Tuesday may grow from a swell of protests on the redistricting, it appeared today.

LEONARD WOLF JR.

Leonard Wolf Will Campaign For Supervisor

Leonard (Lenny) Wolf, Jr., contractor, former city councilman, and a member of the 1961 Riverside County Grand Jury, today announced his candidacy for supervisor of the fourth supervisorial district.

Wolf has lived in the area since 1948 and has been active in many civic endeavors throughout the desert and Riverside County.

Best known in the county during his leadership as president of the League of Riverside County Cities, Wolf visited scores of cities and communities to solve problems of mutual interest, chiefly on the groundwork for the Bradley-Burns Act which has netted local communities much needed revenue and supplied the county with additional funds.

Developer

For 11 years a contractor and developer, Wolf was for more than seven years owner-operator of the famed Taverdale Farms in Northern Illinois.

In his younger years he worked for his father in the manufacturing business and within a few years became plant manager in charge of production.

From 1941 to 1948, he ran Taverdale Farm and sold it to come to Palm Springs and immediately joined the Palm Springs Police Department as a reserve officer and served for eight years advancing every position from patrolman through sergeant and lieutenant to captain.

Councilman

Between 1956 and 1960 he served on the Palm Springs City Council as representative of the third councilmanic district. From 1958 to 1960, he served as president of the League of Riverside County Cities. This year he was chosen to serve as a member of the Riverside County Grand Jury.

Wolf with his associate H. C. Newman, operating as the N & W Development Corporation, have started processing the first Federal Housing Administration low cost rental apartment in the Coachella Valley.

Wolf and his wife, Esther, recently celebrated their 22nd wedding anniversary. The couple have one daughter, Lucille. They reside at 1109 No. Sunrise Way.

Weather

Desert Area Forecast:
Sunny today and Thursday. Slightly warmer today with high temperature in the 60s in upper valleys and in the 70s in lower valleys.
Palm Springs high temperature Tuesday was 72, low 43.

Spa Visitor Carl C. Ernst, 64, Calectric President Passes Away

Stricken while on a business trip to New York, Carl C. Ernst, 64, president of the California Electric Power Company, died Tuesday as result of a heart attack. Apparently in fine health, the Calectric executive had left his headquarters offices in San Bernardino Sunday for the east.

He was widely known in Palm Springs where he was a frequent visitor on business and pleasure. His sudden death came as a shock to his many friends here.

"There has been some discussion of running some ads supporting a write-in, but no firm decision has been made," William J. Maidhof, city businessman and supporter of redistricting since 1949, said today.

"There seems to be a great deal of opposition to the councilmanic redistricting plan, but much of the opposition isn't articulate about it," Maidhof continued.

He explained that the primary issue of contention was councilmanic refusal to place the council-at-large measure on the ballot, to give voters a chance to decide between the proposed redistricting and a council-at-large system.

Law Delays Change

"If this redistricting goes through, the issue will be dead here for a long time," Maidhof said, apparently discussing an equalization of districts.

"Actually, the issue is not immediate, because even if the city election had allowed the council-at-large issue and it won, the vote wouldn't affect the April councilmanic elections. It would be two years before any major change would be apparent in the vote," Maidhof said.

Issue Split Council

The Tuesday election was set in the Oct. 9 council meeting when the council-at-large proposal for the ballot was killed on a 3-2 override of efforts by Councilman Ted McKinney and Mayor Frank Bogert to put the measure on the ballot. It will have a single issue of redistricting the seven councilmanic districts.

Termed an "equalization" by councilmanic proponents, the proposed redistricting would reduce the spread of percentages between the districts, but would leave a range from 5.8 per cent of the 1960 registered voters in district four to 24 per cent in district one.

Vote Spread Varies

District one, now represented by Councilman Ted McKinney, currently has 48 per cent of the city's 6,767 registered voters. Low districts are six and seven, with 2.4 per cent each, and four, with 7.9 per cent of the voters, plus five with 6.1 per cent of the voters. District two now has 18.5 per cent, three 14.3 per cent.

Council members are McKinney, one; Mayor Frank Bogert, two; Earle Strebe, three; Mrs. Mary Carlin, four; Vice Mayor Kenneth Kirk, five; George Beebe Jr., six; and Harry Paisley, seven. In 1950, the districts ranged from 32.1 per cent of the voters in district one, to 4.6 per cent in district seven.

Installation In Palm Desert

A breakfast meeting at the El Dorado Country Club will be the site of installation of new officers in the Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce on Dec. 19, according to Chamber Manager Don McNeilly.

Richard B. Kite will be installed as president to succeed Dick Coffin. Other new officers include Harold Smith, vice president and Jerry Malone, secretary-treasurer. McNeilly said the meeting would start at 8 a.m., following the buffet breakfast from 7 to 8. Since seating is limited, he reported that reservations must be made to the chamber office.

Clement Atlee Condition Grave

AMERSHAM, England (UPI) — Former Prime Minister Earl Atlee, 78, admitted to Amersham Hospital Tuesday for a "minor stomach upset," was reported today to have taken a turn for the worse and to be in a "grave" condition.

Ernst joined the power company in 1920 as an electrician and worked his way to its top position. He was prominent in electrical fields throughout the nation. In 1927 he became district manager for the Imperial Valley division of Calectric and in 1934 manager of the Nevada district. He was elected to the vice presidency of the company in 1937 and elected president and a member of the directorate in 1937.

He held offices in many electrical concerns and was also a trustee of the University of Redlands.

He was a Fellow in the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, elected to that honor for his work and managerial contributions to "the development of a rapidly expanding and changing electric power system."

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth, and two daughters, Mrs. Robert M. Rothwell of Hawaii and Mrs. Richard E. Deardon of Whittier. His home was in Rialto. Funeral services will be announced later.

U. N. JETS BLAST KATANGA'S PLANES IN BOMBER ATTACK

PROGRESS on utility installations for developments in the easterly portion of section 14 continued today as contractors and utility firms together worked on service lines. The new lines will extend westward down the median of Tahquitz-McCallum Way from Sunrise Way. A major cross-over to link north-south services on Sunrise Way is made at the intersection (foreground of work) adjacent to the drainage area. Conduits for electrical and phone service will be installed in concrete-asphalt pipes. (Desert Sun Photo)

Fighting Rages Second Day in Congo Province

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — United Nations jets destroyed four Katangese planes at Kolwezi Airfield in a 20-minute bombing and strafing attack today.

The attack, announced by a U.N. spokesman at headquarters in Leopoldville, all but eliminated the Katanga air force from action and gave the U.N. control of the skies over this secessionist province where all-out fighting raged into its second day.

In another move aimed at restoring U.N. control in Katanga the United States announced it would provide up to 21 additional big cargo planes to aid the U.N. forces in the Congo.

A State Department announcement in Washington said the planes would be available to fly additional troops from U.N. nations directly to the front lines in the Congo. The planes will be manned by U.S. Air Force crews.

Attack on Airport

The U.N. air strike came shortly after a Katangese Dornier plane had attempted to attack the U.N.-held Elisabethville Airport.

The U.N. jets, which flew in from Luluabourg in Kasai Province, hit the Kolwezi field before the Katangese stronghold of Jadotville this morning but were thwarted by clouds.

In and about Elisabethville, U.N. ground forces battled with Katangese troops and police.

Simultaneously, an estimated six U.S. Air Force Globemaster transport planes stepped up supply flights to U.N. forces here, carrying troops, food and military hardware.

Communications Cut Off

The spokesman said no reports had been received here from Elisabethville since 8:35 a.m. local time today.

Just before dusk today, the huge Globemasters began landing here after airlifting supplies to Katanga.

Other Globemasters flew from Ireland with 350 fresh Irish troops. Some Swedish troops were flown out of Katanga.

Meanwhile informed sources said U.N. Acting Secretary General Thant has been informed of a new secessionist attempt by Antoine Gizenga, pro-Communist leader of Stanleyville Province and a vice premier in the central government.

Push Idea for Two Chinas in United Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Support developed in the General Assembly today for the "two Chinas" concept — a U.N. seat for the Communist Peiping regime and one for the Nationalist government of Formosa.

Both the Chinese Communists and the Chinese Nationalists have refused to acknowledge the possibility of both regimes as legitimate governments, and the Soviet Union and the United States, their principal backers, have never discussed it formally.

Jaja Wachuku, Nigeria's foreign minister, who is considered here as a reliable spokesman for much of African opinion, put the idea forward seriously Tuesday. Before that, Swedish Minister of State Mrs. Ulla Lindstrom, while favoring Communist China's seating, declared that such action would leave the problem of Nationalist China still to be solved.

More was expected to be heard of the idea when the China debate continues in the assembly this afternoon, with Ghana, the Ukraine, Australia, Cuba and Japan listed to speak.

The invitation was extended Tuesday by Hungarian Deputy Foreign Minister Peter Mod, informed sources said, and Thant accepted. No date was said to have been set for the visit.

Red Spending on Military Jumps

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today announced the largest peacetime military budget in the nation's history to counter the "aggressive" actions of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Soviet Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov, addressing the opening of the U.S.S.R. Supreme Soviet, said the country planned to spend 13.4 billion new rubles in the military budget for 1962.

At the Soviet official rate of exchange of $1.10 to a ruble, the figure meant the U.S.S.R. expected to spend the equivalent of $14,740,000,000 on its armed forces.

Figures Are Misleading
(Western officials have said in the past that the Soviet budget can be misleading because of the artificially set Soviet rate of exchange and because military expenditures can be hidden in the budget for the state-controlled heavy industry.)

The Soviet Union's 1961 budget called for a military outlay of $10,180,000,000.

P.S. Schools Enrollment At 5,000

Enrollment figures in the Palm Springs Unified School District continue to soar. Superintendent Dwight E. Twist announced today. Twist said totals for Dec. 1 show a total only 12 shy of the 5,000 mark.

All schools shows gains excepting Agua Caliente and Cathedral City, with the Desert Hot Springs Elementary School and the high school showing the highest number gained since Nov. 22. In each instance there were five new students who had matriculated since the November count.

Total school enrollment now stands at 4,988. Kindergarten through sixth grade has reached 2,271, seventh and eighth grade enrollment in the Nellie N. Coffman Junior High School is 648, and the Palm Springs High School is now pegged at 1,169.

Total increase over the December 1960 count is 169.

Garbuzov said the sharp military budget increase had been forced upon the U.S.S.R. by what he termed the "aggressive NATO bloc." He accused NATO of working to boost and perfect its own armaments.

Garbuzov told the deputies the United States had jumped its defense appropriations by about $6 billion.

He said the U.S. increase compelled the Soviet Union to junk its plans for reducing military forces and expenditures.

Record Soviet Budget

Garbuzov announced the nation's over-all budget for 1962 was a record for peacetime.

He said the U.S.S.R.'s 1962 income would come to about $90 billion and announced total expenditures of $88.3 billion.

Prominent on the platform at the Kremlin today was Marshal Kliment Voroshilov, publicly disgraced by Khrushchev last October during the Communist Party Congress here.

It was believed to be Voroshilov's first public appearance since he was openly humiliated by being refused a place on Lenin's tomb during the annual celebrations here. Khrushchev had accused him of "anti-party" activities.

Section 14 Development Moves Rapidly

The increasing pace of commercial development in Palm Springs' Section 14 was pointed up today as workers tore up the street in the heart of the section at Tahquitz - McCallum and Sunrise Way. The construction crew was installing utility lines to serve businesses in the area, which as Indian-held land has until recently been held back because of federal restrictions.

Two business developments already are under way in the Tahquitz-Sunrise area — a laundromat scheduled to open Saturday and a building for California Water and Telephone Co., now in the early stages of construction. It is understood several others are soon to start.

Further west on Tahquitz-McCallum substandard dwellings have been cleared away to permit commercial development along the south side of the street near El Segundo.

And the biggest new development in Section 14, the new Alpha Beta Market and shopping center, is nearing completion at the intersection of Sunrise and Ramon Road.

The Community Chest gathers funds in support of eight organizations, each of which have found a continuing, growing need for additional funds this year. The organizations supported by the chest include Youth Center, Girl Scouts, Welfare and Friendly Aid, Desert Museum, Safety Council, Boys Club, Campfire Girls and Boy Scouts.

The luncheon, to be held Friday, has been set by the local chest's executive manager, Mac McDonald, to give the members of the committees, officers and organizational representatives a chance to discuss and plan the forthcoming campaign.

Areas included within the campaign will touch residents and visitors from Desert Hot Springs to Palm Desert, and Palm Springs to Thousand Palms.

Officers of the Community Chest for this year are Smith, president; vice presidents Lester Selig, the Rev. Fredrick Barnhill, and Don Goudry; Fred Anderson, secretary; Laura Simmons, treasurer; and Hardin Hart Jr., past president.

Some 90 persons, directors, representatives, and committeemen of the Palm Springs Community Chest will attend a luncheon at noon Friday at the Ranch Club to complete their plans for the 1962 Community Chest fund raising campaign for the desert area.

William Smith, president of the Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association and president of the Community Chest announced today that Jack Miles, assistant Superintendent of schools, has been named campaign chairman, and has set next year's budget at $114,000.

Organizational representatives a chance to discuss and plan the forthcoming campaign.

Areas included within the campaign will touch residents and visitors from Desert Hot Springs to Palm Desert, and Palm Springs to Thousand Palms.

Officers of the Community Chest for this year are Smith, president; vice presidents Lester Selig, the Rev. Fredrick Barnhill, and Don Goudry; Fred Anderson, secretary; Laura Simmons, treasurer; and Hardin Hart Jr., past president.

NEWS in BRIEF

SANTO DOMINGO, D. R. (UPI) — Negotiations between the government and the opposition were expected to continue today despite President Joaquin Balaguer's illness and the receding of the opposition radio.

Mediators Nicolas Pichardo and Emilio Rodriguez Demorizi visited Balaguer Tuesday night after conferring with leaders of the opposition UCN party. A new government proposal was reported under consideration.

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro's government authorized the Interior Ministry Tuesday night to confiscate the property of refugees who flee from Cuba in future.

The new decree requires persons wishing to leave the country to go to the Interior Ministry to obtain exit permits fixing a definite term for their stay abroad. In the past, such permits could be obtained at any police station.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The White House has announced the temporary appointment of James A. Reed, a Massachusetts corporate and tax lawyer, as assistant secretary of the Treasury.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Tuesday that Reed will fill the post after Jan. 1, the date the resignation of A. Gilmore Flues becomes effective.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The space agency said today the first attempt to put an American astronaut into orbit around the earth will be made early next year.

Officials had hoped for a while that the flight might be undertaken late this month. Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the "prime astronaut" picked for the pioneering U.S. venture, had said he was ready.

'Borrowed' Train Used for Escape

BERLIN (UPI)—A young East German train engineer "borrowed" a Communist passenger train Tuesday night and turned it into a cannon ball express that sped him and 24 refugees to freedom in West Berlin.

The engineer celebrated his 29th birthday today surrounded by his entire family who accompanied him on the wild ride.

The daring trainman, whose longest previous run was estimated to be an internal East German trip of some 50 miles, turned his Walter Mitty-type dreams of escape into reality in Berlin's most sensational flight to freedom of the cold war.

The refugees made their escape when the engineer, who was not identified, assisted by a fireman friend, powered the locomotive past the scheduled last stop at the East German station of Albrechtshof.

Refugees Tell Story Here is the story that was pieced together early this morning from the refugees.

The trainmen had heard that the rails which previously led from Albrechtshof into West Berlin were scheduled to be removed as part of the Communists' border-sealing operations.

The two dreamed of driving a train with their families and friends through heavily armed police guards to the West. They began their detailed plan last week.

The engineer decided to adopt Communist measures to hoodwink East German authorities by playing the role of an "eager-beaver."

He told his boss he would like to get additional experience by running the train on a link that switches from his normal route into Albrechtshof.

Boss Agrees The boss was pleased with his subordinate's willingness to gain additional experience and agreed to try him on a different run.

The engineer was given Tuesday night's run, but was assigned the fireman who normally stoked his train on the regular run. He told the regular man to take the day off, telling him he had a friend who would pull the duty for him. The regular fireman happily agreed.

The engineer's family and friends purchased tickets and piled aboard the train. When the well-stoked eight-car train reached Albrechtshof, it sped on through at a speed of 50 miles an hour to Spandau in the British sector.

Guards Surprised The Communist border guards were so surprised they did not open fire.

The fireman brought his mother, father, sister and two friends with him. An East German girl who was not part of the plot decided to join the refugees when she learned of the escape.

Mayor Scheduled on Broadcast Friday A look at Palm Springs' past, present and future, will be discussed by the city's mayor, Frank Bogert, as Hap Trout's special guest on "Feature Report," Radio Station KDES, Friday.

The mayor, a long time desert resident, will evaluate the past year in the city, and give a view of what is yet to come for this fast growing community.

Pakistan, carved out of India in 1947, comprises two unequal parts, with West Pakistan separated from East Pakistan nearly 1,000 miles by land and 3,000 miles by sea.

Palm Springs police today are seeking suspects — possibly juvenile — who tossed an assortment of refuse into the George Finley residence swimming pool at 729 N. Sunrise Way.

Harold J. Sperling, pool maintenance contractor, reported to police late Tuesday that he found rocks, fruits, vegetables and dead birds tied to rocks in the pool.

The malicious mischief was tentatively identified as the work of juveniles.

Next Step Toward U.S. Man Orbiting Slated

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Scientists plan to "marry" a space capsule and a converted war rocket within a few days in the next key step toward putting a U.S. astronaut into orbit.

The bell-shaped Mercury capsule, free of troubles that cropped up earlier this week, remained inside a hangar on the Cape, waiting for the truck ride that would take it to launching pad No. 14.

Missile workers on the $400 million Mercury man-into-space program already have installed the rocket, Atlas No. 109D, on the pad. Detailed check-outs have shown no troubles in the booster.

However, sources said it would be "at least a few more days—possibly next week," before the capsule would be mated to the huge rocket for the flight that will carry Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn into space as America's first orbiting astronaut.

After the physical connection of the capsule and the rocket, scientists still will have at least 11 days of check-outs ahead of them before they can give Glenn the "go-ahead" for his planned three-orbit trip around the globe.

The mathematical chance that a manned orbital flight by the United States could come this year were small and getting smaller by the day.

Bright Missile Shot Observed From Desert

Desert area residents watched in awe Tuesday evening as a powerful missile fired from Point Mugu Naval Missile Range blasted through the clear evening sky westward over the Pacific.

The launching was confirmed to law enforcement and civil defense agencies through the state Division of Forestry, which reported the sky lighting was caused by a missile launching.

Palm Springs residents and workers reported sightings from the pass area down through the country club strip. One observer in Thunderbird Country Club said that a phone call from a friend in Las Vegas indicated the launching appeared with equal brilliance in the Nevada resort town.

The big rocket was seen rising above the mountains as the second-stage apparently ignited. One lone fluff of clouds which appeared on a line with the San Geronimo pass, westward and at unknown altitude, was lighted a translucent white by the rocket flare. Lower portions of the cloud held a pink-orange glow, like sunset. The sky apparition shone in a generally clear sky, with no horizon glow apparent from the desert.

As the missile flashed downward into the Pacific, the body glowed like a star, with a soft shaft of light deflecting downward through the atmosphere.

City Clerk Resigns for County Race

Bids Called on 29 Palms Road Interchange

Bids will be opened in Los Angeles Jan. 11, 1962, for construction of an interchange on U.S. Highways 60-70-99 and the Twentynine Palms Road intersection about two miles east of White-water, northwest of Palm Springs, C. V. Kane, district highway engineer, said today.

Two bridges and connections to provide for safe and orderly movement of traffic from one highway to the other without interference are included in the plans with new signs, some of them illuminated, will direct traffic to the high desert area.

Traffic will not be interrupted during the building project estimated to take about seven months. The state has budgeted $1,432,000 for the project.

P.S. Court Clerk Added By Split Vote of Board

RIVERSIDE — A clerical worker was added to the staff of the Desert Judicial District Palm Springs office after a request for two workers was defeated in a split vote of the board of supervisors.

The request actually carried by a 3-2 vote, but four ayes were required by law to carry approval of the $4,288 appropriation needed for salaries, which defeated the action. The vote to add one worker was unanimous.

The employment of an additional clerk to handle traffic fines was strongly opposed by supervisor Norman Davis.

"The need for a clerk just to handle traffic fines leaves me a little cold," said Davis. He argued that in preparation of the budget for the new municipal court districts, sufficient personnel to handle increased loads had been anticipated, but Administrative Officer Robert Andersen and Personnel Director Donald Spencer said there had been little on which to judge the increased work load.

Andersen said there is already a big backlog. The work load in Palm Springs has increased from 6,685 cases for the year of 1956-57 to 9,845 in 1960-61 and then jumped to 3,255 for only one month (October) this year.

As to traffic fines, he said they bring a big profit to the county and that 34 per cent of the fines come through Palm Springs. The Palm Springs office of the Desert Judicial District was given the responsibility of collecting and processing for parking meter violations for the city of Palm Springs two months ago. There were 1,432 violations in the first month.

Supervisors William Jones, Paul Anderson and George Berkey voted in favor of allowing both clerks and appropriating the salaries. Joining Davis in voting against it was Supervisor Fred McCall.

Actually, the county can be forced to permit employment of a collections clerk and furnish money for the salary, in two ways. The board can reiterate its three-to-two vote for the position, and the position granted, the county will have to pay the salary; or the judge can exercise his authority to order the employment of the clerk and payment of salary if he can justify the need.

Mecca Out of Water District

A notice from Imperial County that boundaries of the proposed Salton Sea Water District have been established excluding property in the Mecca area has been received and filed by the board of supervisors.

The Coachella Valley County Water District had withheld consent to inclusion of the Mecca area on which a well is located.

PALM SPRINGS WOMEN REVOLT

More and more women in Palm Springs refuse to get breakfast for their husbands on the grounds that The Hot Dog Show at 134 North Palm Canyon Drive serves such delicious, inexpensive breakfast, some EVEN REFUSE TO LET THE BUTLER PACK A LUNCH BOX. With a barbecued steak sandwich for 85 cents at The Hot Dog Show it just isn't practical to bother the butler. AND for the maid's night out a 3/4 lb. charcoal broiled steak with salad, garlic toast and Boston baked beans for $1.85. Why bother in the kitchen, all you have to do is remember the address The Hot Dog Show, 134 North Palm Canyon Drive. Food to go and of course Heavenly Hot Dogs and Burgers.

High School Students Are Selling Chocolate

Palm Springs High School students are ranging out in appeals to the city sweet tooth to help finance the local chapter of the American Field Service — selling chocolates.

Under the program, six students have been brought here since the program got underway here three years ago. In addition, Palm Springs students have been sent abroad for study. Last summer, Steve Nichols spent the summer in Finland under the project.

Nominees this year, for final selection by the AFS headquarters in New York, are Nancy Coffey, vice president of the junior class; David Jordan, junior, president of the Science Club and member of the Scholarship Society; Vicki Lynch, secretary of the senior class, who will play a lead role in the class production of "Rebecca" Saturday; and Cheryl Newman, who, like Vicki, is a straight "A" student.

"We feel certain that we will have a representative from Palm Springs High School going to Europe next summer," Janice Woods, AFS chapter president, said.

American teen-agers going abroad under the program must be 16 to 18 years of age, have above average grades and at least two years of foreign language study. The AFS, continuation of an ambulance corps, branched into the foreign exchange student field in 1947.

The tallest Christmas tree on record was a 221-foot Douglas fir from the Naches Forest. It was set up in 1950 in a shopping center near Seattle, Wash.

Mister Dillon, Chester's for Song and Dance

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The plaintive cry of "Mister Dillon" will fade from Dodge City forever next spring when Chester Goode chucks his job as the marshal's assistant to become a song and dance man on his own TV show.

Dennis Weaver, who starred as still-legged Chester on the top-rated "Gunsmoke" series for seven years, is striking out on his own.

"This is my last season for sure," Weaver announced. "I've talked about it before, but this time I'm really leaving. I'm not quitting just for the sake of more money or because I'm unhappy with 'Gunsmoke'."

"I have something I'd rather do—my very own show. It will be called either 'TV Tonight' or 'The Dennis Weaver Show.' I'll be sort of a host and master of ceremonies of an hour variety show, something like what Dinah Shore does."

The absence of Chester from the weekly western may prove a disastrous blow to Jim (Marshal Dillon) Arness and the rest of the cast.

Weaver is aware that his departure may have serious consequences.

"I know leaving the program will effect things," he said, "but I don't know to what extent or in what area. They're talking about replacing me with another assistant for Marshal Dillon, but he won't be another Chester."

Why is Weaver tossing aside such a good deal for a risky try at success in a field completely foreign to him?

"I'm not under the illusion that I'll ever be lucky enough to appear as a regular in another 'Gunsmoke,'" he explained. "That happens only once in a lifetime."

"I guess the creative urge just overwhelmed me after seven years in one role. I feel I've got to do something else. This is the moment of my peak popularity and greatest bargaining strength. I should take advantage of it to try a new field."

"I realize variety shows aren't going over big now, but the gamble is exciting. It is adventure—some and I get a pioneer feeling about having my own property."

Dinah's show and the Garry Moore show, is going to be my partner."

"Gunsmoke!" producer Norman MacDonald, the CBS network and Arness haven't attempted to dissuade Weaver from leaving.

"It will be a sad day for me when I leave," Dennis said.

"I've built up a lot of friendships and associations with this show. And after all this time it won't be easy for me to say goodbye to all the fine people."

"Right now they're trying to figure out a way to write me out of the series. Maybe they'll leave

Eddie Kaw Is Featured in Sports Page

DESERT BRAEMAR — A Los Angeles newspaper's sports section gave recognition to Desert Braemar's Eddie Kaw in a special feature. The cartoon showed Eddie hurdling the field on a muddy day Nov. 24, 1921, in a traditional Cornell-Penn game. Cornell swamped Penn 41-0 as Gloomy Gus Dobie's Big Red Team closed their first of three consecutive all-winning seasons. Halfback Eddie Kaw ran for five touchdowns in the mud that day. Eddie has been elected to the National Football Hall of Fame as well as the Helms Hall of Fame.

Frank Walter, Braemarite and Indian Wells golfing member, has guest Allen Geilberger here for the Southern California Open Golf Tournament at Indian Wells. Allen came through with runner-up money in the pro section and Frank got in on the final two days of the tournament in the pro-amateur portion.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Leffel of LaGrande, Ore., are guests at the Barney Olson Braemar Apartment. Leffel is a retired Penny store manager. They will visit relatives at San Clemente on the homeward trip.

The Jim Torrences are on a motor trip to spend some time with friends in San Diego and will take in Disneyland before returning to Braemar.

Joseph Brosamer and wife Bess of Tacoma, Wash., came here to attend the directors meeting of the National Association of Credit men, he being a director from Washington State. They were guests of the Fred Wines for the day Tuesday concluded with a dinner at Desert Air Hotel. This is Brosamer's first visit to Palm Springs.

Pat and Dorothy Page, together with Mrs. Page's two sisters who visited Braemar the past week, are tripping to Ventura and will call on John Page and family at Thousand Oaks. The trip will terminate with seeing the sights at Disneyland.

Meredith Babeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Babeau of Braemar, entertained 25 friends Saturday night. Miss Babeau is a story editor at CBS TV. Fellow staff members attending were producer Bertram Berman and his wife, director Al Rafkin and Mrs. Rafkin, legal advisor Ephraim Hirsch, commentator Bill Stout and wife. Also present were the Jack Manfilds, the Michael Michaelinis, Buddy Borgen, the Eddie Kaws, James Helms, Jack Bradys, Miss Dorene Wolf, Miss Lita del Porto, Bill Larsen, Milt Larsen and Don Gotschall. A script by Miss Babeau is currently being aired on the daytime courtroom drama "The Verdict is Yours." Miss Babeau has been at CBS since her graduation from Stanford. Formerly she was associated with "Playhouse 90."

'I Love You, Elmer' Party Scheduled for December 28

INDIO — An "I Love You Elmer" party to mark the retirement of Elmer Bolton from his Superior Court bailiff office has been scheduled by his friends for Dec. 28.

The retirement party will be held at the Mediterranean Room of the Riviera in Palm Springs. Bolton, who has served the court for 30 years, is presently bailiff in Superior Judge Hilton McCabe's court here. The party is especially for jurors and their friends who have worked with Bolton but party planners report that all who wish to attend may purchase tickets.

A social hour is planned for 6:30 to 7:30 with dinner following. Reservations must be made with the Culver Nichols office here. Tickets are also available from Don McNeely at the Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce and Irene Dodd at the Superior Court here.

'Mike' Hamilton Joins Staff of News Service

Michele "Mike" Hamilton, who operated her own publicity office in Hollywood for five years, has joined the staff of P. S. News and Photo Service.

Not unknown in Palm Springs, she previously was responsible for press, advertising, and programs for the sports car races staged twice a year at the Palm Springs Airport.

Mike Hamilton comes to Palm Springs and the desert area with a background in press relations, advertising and copywriting.

A Matter of Mind

By Dr. Arthur Janov

Dr. Janov has been nominated to the Behavioral Sciences Division of the American Men of Science. This volume contains biographical data on men who have made a contribution in the field of social science.

Many of us are the victims of the "reluctant yes."

Parents seem to find it difficult to say yes immediately when their children ask them if they can do a particular thing or go someplace. It often isn't so much that they need time to think but rather these parents suffer from an almost constitutional inability to give a clear, quick affirmative answer to their children.

The result is that children develop a twinge of anxiety, a kind of nagging feeling that whenever they ask for something the answer will be reluctant and ambiguous.

Distrust Develops
It develops in children a distrust of the positive and assured and places them in that never-never land of wishy-washiness that in turn gets transmitted to their own children later.

The "reluctant yes" gives children an unresolved feeling that no matter how simple the request there will always be a delay. They do not understand that many parents are so indecisive because their parents were indecisive with them. Rather, they blame themselves and try to develop various ways of asking for things that they feel will get the best results. Sometimes it's to whine or cry. Sometimes it's a question asked in a pleading, importuning way. These children lose the fine ability to be direct and honest and instead are forced to find subterfuges to cloak their requests.

Naggers and Demanders
The "reluctant yes" and the "reluctant no" force children to become naggers and demanders. Since nothing is definite they wonder if a little more nagging and whining wouldn't push mother from her chronic position of "we'll see" to a possible yes. Often it works. The children are often able to force the parent to be definite. Indeed, some parents are so unable to be definite, that it takes an outside pressure to force them into a position.

Some children learn from parent's reluctance that waiting is always painful and usually meaningless. They are unable to wait when they should. Since they have had to wait for both important and unimportant decisions they have not learned how to differentiate and tell when waiting is necessary and proper.

Some React Aggressively
Still other children react aggressively to this reluctance. They learn that nothing comes easily—not even the little things. Everything has to be fought for. These children learn to put up a fight for everything even when it isn't necessary. What can happen later is that nothing seems worthwhile that you don't fight for.

Too often parents say "we'll see" when they really mean "no," but fear the fight their children will put up. They don't realize that it's the reluctance that produces the fight in the first place. Children soon sense that "we'll see" usually turns into a disappointing "no" and develop an overbearing impatience that makes them distrustful of waiting because it leads to inevitable disappointment.

Anna Graham Passes Away In Hospital

Funeral services for Anna Elizabeth Graham, 65, of 1375 Buena Vista Drive, will be conducted at 9 a.m. Friday in Wietfeld and Son Chapel. She died at a local hospital Monday morning, following an illness of several years.

A native of Camden, N. J., Mrs. Graham had been a resident of Palm Springs for 20 years and of California for 46 years. She is survived by her husband, Thad Graham of Palm Springs; one son, Thad Graham Jr. of Romoland; a granddaughter, Mrs. William B. Prophet Jr. of John Day, Ore.; two brothers, Godfrey Holmes of Miami, Fla., and Rubin Holmes of Philadelphia, Pa.; and one sister, Mrs. Augusta McClaughry of St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Rev. James H. Blackstone Jr., pastor of the Palm Springs Community Church, will officiate at the services. Entombment will be in Inglewood Park Mausoleum.

The nation's paper industry manufactured an estimated 4 billion Christmas greeting cards for the holidays.

LEANING PALM frames this picture at the Tamarisk Country Club course just east of Cathedral City. Besides the many palms located on the course, grapefruit trees are also in abundance. The luscious fruit from the latter are picked by golfers making the rounds and who knows how many improved scores result from such refreshment.

Tamarisk Course Boasts Grapefruit, Date Supply

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles highlighting the golf courses which go to make up the "Gold Capital of the World"—Palm Springs.)

If golf should ever go out of style, the beautiful Tamarisk Country Club course could easily be converted to a grapefruit plantation.

With chances as dim as they are for golf to do a fade-out, players at Tamarisk can continue their policy of munching the tasty citrus as they tour the course. There are 175 grapefruit trees along the route which could fill out many a bushel of the top-grade product. In addition to this, there are some 900 date trees on the property. Between them, dates and grapefruit could be a big business.

But golf is the business at Tamarisk, which boasts one of the top championship courses in the famed "Winter Golf Capital of the World." Routed over 7,052 yards of cool tree-lined fairways, are the 18 holes of the long course. A medium distance runs 6,543, while the ladies distance is 6,288.

Par is 72. Par at Tamarisk is 72, with No. 12 the longest distance twist tee and pin, measuring out at 540 yards on a five par. Shortest hole is the one before that, No. 11, at 170 yards and par three.

TWIN PALMS reflected in the lake at Tamarisk greet golfers as they tour the beautiful course. Besides its beautifying feature, the lake also serves as an irrigation reservoir and to fertilize the course.

The course is located on 145 acres, surrounded by 85 acres of the private homes of business and professional people, and well known entertainment world personalities. Included in the latter category are the Marx Brothers, Danny Thomas, and several members of the clan including the leader, Sinatra, and the ambassador to the White House, Peter Lawford.

Most film personalities who are good golfers are also included in the membership rolls, including Tony Curtis, Dean Martin and many others.

The home-owner total at Tamarisk has nearly reached the 40 mark with new construction now in progress on others. Homes along the fairways are not fenced from the lush green grass, but melt from yard into turf.

Speaking of the Tamarisk greenery, which is re-seeded each year, a relatively new method has been created there to fertilize the course. While hand spreaders or machinery take anywhere from three to four days, the new system makes the job possible in five hours.

It's done by adding chemicals to the waters of the lake at Tamarisk which is located in the center of the course. It is the only lake which is built to serve three purposes: 1.) to fertilize the course, 2.) as an irrigation reservoir, and 3.) as a beauty attraction.

Summer Additions
Highlighting work at the course over the summer was a fancy new enlarged ladies locker room. The course itself received four miles of new golf paths for easier cruising, and all the traps were re-shaped with some new ones added to test the skill of ever-improving golfers. Something new has been added to the traps, a white silica sand which is a great improvement of the gravel of older days used in many courses.

Tamarisk this year is celebrating its first decade of existence as it was started in 1951 with construction work completed for opening of play in the fall of 1952. The work of the developers turned a barren, rocky desert into the $2,000,000 beautiful rolling course which attracts golfers from all over the world.

The private club is operated by a 20-man board of directors with David C. Houb, president; Nathan M. Ohrbach and Louis M. Halper, vice presidents; Herb Lautmann, secretary; and Arthur Levy, secretary.

Directors also include Louis E. Golan, Raymond Lee, Edwin H. Morris, Ben F. Shearer, Edward Small, Charles Clare, Edgar Richards, Clarence Brown, Charles Hansen, Kay Karahadian, Lester Selig, Richard Bagdasarian and John Wood.

Desert Specialist
Managing the club is Harry Drewery, now in his seventh year at that post, while greens superintendent is Paul Addessi, who recently returned from a trip to Israel where he built a new course. He is noted as a top authority on golf course care in deserts. At Tamarisk, he is assisted by Ed Curlin.

Golf Professional Ellsworth Vines heads the crew of instructors with assistance from Nick Turzian, Angel de la Torre, Frank Como, Bill Kitzmann and Herb Williams. In the culinary department, Tiny Olivastro is chef, and bar manager is Hugh Graham.

Indians Drop First BB Contest to Ike, 61-30

The Palm Springs Indians variety basketball team encountered trouble yesterday afternoon when they faced the fast-breaking Eisenhower Eagles, who trounced the Tribe, 61-30 in a non-league game.

In the third stanza, the powerful Eagles held the Indians scoreless while scoring 10 markers to ice the game for the visiting courtmen.

The hosts salvaged the preliminary Bee game, 47-26, as 5-11 sophomore Frank Rivers hit the nets for a high of 24 points.

The Eagles swooped to a 37-18 half-time advantage as forward Jerry Lucas tallied 19 points, which was high for both clubs. Lucas only played the first half.

Coach George Hertzke substituted freely in the third quarter and continued with his bench during the final stanza.

Gottlieb Paces Tribe
Steve Gottlieb let the Indian attack with six points. The high flying Eagles held last year's scoring whiz, Tyrone Taylor, to only four tallies.

Coach Hertzke wasn't too pleased with the Indians first outing of the season, and remarked after the game, "we played real bad."

Heffernan Wins Choose-Up Event
Alice Heffernan was first class low gross prize Tuesday in the weekly Ladies' Choose-Up event at the Thunderbird Country Club.

Other division winners include: second class, Barbara Hinkle, 92; first low gross; Reddy Shearer, 92; second, and Louise Nicoletti, 93, third.

Third class, Dorothy Royce, 96; first; Blanche Dulany, 98; second; Alta Williams, 99; third and Lillis Doughty, 100, fourth. Fourth class, Mary Hicks, 104.

SLUGGERS
NEW YORK (UPI)—Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig provided the New York Yankees of 1927 with the greatest one-two punch in baseball history when they connected for a total of 107 home runs.

Ruth McCullah Wins Annual Bermuda Dunes Golf Title
Mrs. Ruth McCullah, of Riviera CC and Bermuda Dunes CC, posted a low gross of 161 to capture the second annual Bermuda Dunes Women's Invitation Golf Tournament. Mrs. Adolph Bremer, Thunderbird CC, won low net honors with a 144 score.

The Class A low gross title went to Jan Tarble, Belaire CC, with 163. Mrs. Alfred Shinn, Santa Ana CC, and Maury Orr, Riviera CC, tied for second in the low net competition with 148 totals.

"Ike had its fast-break working real well against our boys," he added.

The Indians hit only about 20 per cent of their shots from the floor and collected 12 field goals.

The Tribe's next outing is Friday night at Perris against the De Anza League Panthers. The preliminary Bee game starts at 7 p.m.

Tramview Team Tops Loop in Shuffleboard
Through the third week of the Interpark Shuffleboard League, the Tramview Trailer Park team continues to top the list of eight teams as they defeated the Silver Spur players in their last outing, by a 4-1 score.

The Ramon team, who along with Tramview is undefeated thus far in league play, turned back the Sun Town team, 3-2. Both Ramon and Tramview have won three matches during the early weeks of the season.

Thus far Tramview has defeated Rancho, 4-1; knocked off Sky Ridge, 4-1 and downed Silver Spur, 4-1. Ramon squeezed by Sahara, 3-2; slipped by the Horizon team, 3-2 and edged the Sun Town players, 3-2.

and upon the totaling of three complete sets the club presents them with a coffee pot. The Ladies Day Tournaments will be held every Monday, and the first one had a total of six teams competing for the prizes. (P.S. News-Photo)

DAVIS CUP FOR GOLF?

Sarazen Says Golf Needs World-Wide Competition

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK (UPI)—The Ryder Cup held between professionals of the United States and Great Britain is a relic of the past which should be replaced by a Davis Cup type series, veteran Gene Sarazen asserted today after his return from a round-the-world golfing trip.

"There are great players and great courses all over the world," said the stocky golfing great in his usual forthright manner. "It's ridiculous to restrict the competition to two nations when golf has become such a terrific worldwide sport."

Sarazen pointed to the top-sided results of the Ryder Cup matches as proof of his contention.

"The United States this year won it for the 11th time in 14 competitions," he pointed out. "How much better it would be if it was played like the Davis Cup, with playoffs in various zones of the world and the final international winner meeting the defending champion in a challenge round."

Sarazen has fresh fodder for his contention as result of observations made during a worldwide tour in which he supervised a series of international matches. The series, called "This Wonderful World of Golf," will be presented weekly on CBS television starting Jan. 7. Sarazen plays in

Star O'Hara Aglow Over Singing Success

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Maureen O'Hara, the veteran and beautiful actress, is aglow over the success of Maureen O'Hara, the singer—and for very good reasons: She always preferred singing to movies. She began her theatrical career as a singer in her native Ireland. And her versatile show-woman ability has kept her on top while other veteran female stars have dropped out of sight.

"I told the studio I was a singer when I first came to Hollywood and begged them to put me in a musical," she said in the study of her Bel Air home. "But because I had been established as a dramatic actress in my first picture, 'Jamaica Inn' with Charles Laughton, they decided to let well enough alone."

"And pretty soon I was just the girl on the camel or the pirate ship. And I guess pirate girls don't sing."

Recording Artist Now

Those days are past. Now a recording artist as well as film star, her latest disc is an album of Irish songs—"not the usual saccharine stuff like 'When Irish Eyes Are Smiling,' but real native tunes. I want to show third- and fourth-generation Irish that they have a proud heritage."

Few stars can match Miss O'Hara's versatile entertaining talents. In the past 18 months, her films included "The Parent Trap" and "The Deadly Companions," and she's now at work in "Mr. Hobbs Takes a Vacation" with James Stewart. She has sung on TV with the Ed Sullivan show and Perry Como, as well as "The Telephone Hour" and the Dinah Shore show. She did the live TV drama "The Scarlet Pimpernel."

And she made her Broadway debut in the musical "Christine"—which, while short-lived, brought plaudits for her strong, beautiful voice. "Knock wood," said the flame-haired performer. "I've never been out of work, because I can play any medium. Today, too many people who are not producers enter movies. You have to be an entertainer. They don't make as many movies as they used to—and you've got to stay before your public some way, or you'll be forgotten."

"There was a time when once you proved your talent as an actress in front of the movie camera, you had it made. No more."

Not Scared

Of her singing, she said: "Before I won admission to the drama school run by the Abbey

Theater in Dublin, I had worked from the age of 5 in Irish festivals, singing, dancing, swash-buckling and even playing Shakespeare. Audiences, even the toughest of them, don't scare me."

Wearing a black-and-white check dress and speaking with the brogue she has never entirely lost, Miss O'Hara admitted one of the reasons she has stayed on top may be that she has avoided Hollywood roles that unnecessarily emphasize sex, violence and perversity.

"I'm not a prude," she said. "In fact, in 'Deadly Companions,' I play a pretty earthy woman—but there's a tasteful reason for it. The best explanation is that I've tried never to do anything that offended me. I think self-censorship is the best censorship."

"I'm not much for real censorship, because I think anything forced is bad. It's like telling a 9-year-old boy, 'Don't you dare touch your father's cigarettes.' You know darned well he's going to sneak off and do it. I think we would have been better off without our censorship here."

Miss O'Hara, whose topflight career has included such films as "The Quiet Man," "Miracle on 34th Street," "How Green Was My Valley" and "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," has a beautiful 17-year-old daughter, Bronwyn, who also is trying to cut out an acting career.

"But I don't want it as a lifetime profession," said Bronwyn, joining the interview. "My profession will be, I hope, as a mother of 13 children."

"And I'm supposed to take care of them," said Maureen. "But I guess I'm lucky. When she was younger, she wanted 22 kids."

The friendly, romantic mistletoe which hangs as a Christmas decoration is a far cry from its forest cousin, a dwarf species. The latter is a parasite that stunts and weakens pine and fir trees, ultimately killing its victims.

Gunsmoke Man Now Resident Of Palm Desert

By PAT ANDERSON

PALM DESERT—Ruthie and Clem Widrig, long time desert visitors have become permanent Palm Desert residents. Clem is the technician who gets "Gunsmoke" under way for TV viewers. In his competent hands is the care and welfare of the horse, gun, saddle and personal belongings of Matt Dillon (James Arness) as well as all sets, scenes, wranglers, horses, guns, wagons, sound effects and miscellaneous articles and animals used in the popular Western production.

Widrig has been in the theatre business for over 27 years. From the more leisurely made movies he moved into the concentrated, quicker area of TV pictures.

"Best Years of Our Life" was one of his many movies, as well as "The Great Dictator" and the Mickey Rooney series. In TV, he has made the Sky King Series (shot at our Desert Air) the Lone Ranger (and Tonto was a real Indian) and the Western Marshall series. Ann Sothern's "Private Secretary" was also one of his responsibilities for four or five years, along with "Silent Service" and "How to Marry a Millionaire." His commercials run into the thousands.

"Always something happening in this business," Clem and Ruthie say, laughing over an incident occurring on a real submarine in the Long Beach area. Two years of going through channels by the top officer produced a gun on top of the submarine for training recruits. Widrig wanted the gun off. An icy interchange followed. The picture was complimentary to the Navy so four hours later the gun was gone.

An inexperienced and newly hired helper was told by Widrig to place the fake United Nations flag down on the deck preparatory to shooting. (The commanding officer of a base is always contacted before actual shooting takes place). Apparently going on the theory that if something is good a little more is better, the helper hung the flag up for all to see. The officer on duty snapped to attention, the base went on alert, the men fell into the required formation and a 19-gun salute was given.

Widrig will never know who was more chagrined, he or the Commanding Officer. Needless to say the helper was never seen again.

During the war Widrig was stationed at Blythe (which began his interest in the desert) where he was flight co-ordinator and instructor. To interested Palm Desertites, he described making "Gunsmoke"—five days to shoot, one day of rehearsal and they are always just a day ahead of air time, two days on the set (street scenes and Dodge City) and the rest of the time 5 a.m. location at Canajo Ranch near Oxnard.

Horses are brought over from the Fat Jones stables in the valley. When you see "Delmonico's Restaurant" and the sidewalk sign reads "Specialty today—antelope stew," that means Ruthie has whipped up Jim Arness' favorite beef stew (and the eating scenes are for real). Ruthie helps with charity shows when some of the group are asked to donate their services. Both Ruthie and Clem are looking forward to life on the desert. They have many friends in this area.

VIEW BEHIND the iron curtain was given to Palm Springs Kiwanians Tuesday by Dr. Albert Miller, minister and lecturer, who returned from a seminar tour of American-European citizens. The educator - pastor toured central Europe, portions of Russia.

Kiwanians Hear Dr. A. Miller

"The people don't influence the government, the government influences the people," Dr. Albert Miller, Los Angeles area minister and educator, told Kiwanians here Tuesday.

Dr. Miller, speaking on his observations during a seminar tour of central Europe and portions of Russia with Russian-speaking Dr. Jerome Davis, Yale, emphasized that in Russia citizens "never criticize the government." Several people, interviewed in private, indicated that constant governmental propaganda has "immunized" many citizens. The major propaganda work is through children's groups, which offer displays, activities, and pomp to impress youngsters.

"There is no persecution in the churches—but there are many things they just don't discuss," Dr. Miller concluded.

U.S. Industries Putting Cold to Work

By JESSE ROGUE
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Just as the cold of approaching winter makes a bigger mark each day on the nation's weather maps, so is cold and its uses showing up in a growing portion of its business charts.

The cold that industry has been putting to work is an almost inconceivably greater thing than that felt by a Montana rancher or a Dakota wheat farmer. It is laboratory created, commercially generated; it can laugh at overcoats, turn metals brittle, help make liquids out of gases.

There are colds from 200 below zero Fahrenheit to 459 below. Cryogenics is the name scientists have pinned on this research and technology of the "super-cold." It is the generation and application of extremely low temperatures and industry puts it to work through the effect of the cold on materials.

Investor News, publication of Francis I. Du Pont and Co., here, notes that cryogenic research projects are under way in the laboratories of such companies as AT&T, General Electric, Westinghouse, International Business Machines, Radio Corporation of America, I. L. Du Pont de Nemours, Union Carbide, U. S. Steel, Ford, Shell Oil and others. It estimates more than 250 laboratories now are examining the possibilities of the use of cold, although before World War II only a comparative handful worked on it.

Dr. Howard O. McMahon, vice president of Arthur D. Little, Inc., research firm which has been interested in this science the past 10 years, reviewed the fields in which cryogenics can be applied. They include basic research, leading to more knowledge of the laws of nature; space travel and investigation of space; development of nuclear power; application in electronics; in medical and biological research. In medicine, supercold temperatures already are in use for the storage of human tissues and fluids.

Palm Springs, California, Wednesday, December 6, 1961

Wedding in Purple Room

The bride, Renee Schonfeld, wore an ivory satin princess style gown, which was a family heirloom, when she exchanged wedding bands with Jack Silas in the Purple Room of the Hotel Trinidad. Lace and pearls accented the fitted bodice on her gown, wrist length sleeves were pleated and puffed at the shoulders; and the wide train was eight feet long. Seed pearls formed a crown for her ivory illusion veil, and orchids and stephanotis encircled the white Bible she carried.

Joyce Schonfeld acted as maid of honor to her sister, and Rabbi Leonard Hellman of San Pedro officiated during the ceremony.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids, Barbara Schwarz, Loretta Concoff and Beryl Brownstein wore bell-skirted, violet gowns in satin. Edward Rogell acted as ring bearer.

Best man to the groom was Mel Schwarz and his ushers were Richard Schotland, Michael Litt and Howard Wolfe.

Following the ceremony, a champagne reception was held on the hotel patio.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morrey Schonfeld of Andee Palms in Palm Springs, the bride was a Cameo Debutante of 1957 and was recently graduated from U.C.L.A., where she was president of Sigma Delta Tau Sorority.

The groom, son of Mrs. Pauline Silas of Washington, D. C., is a graduating accounting major at UCLA where he is affiliated with Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity.

The couple is honeymooning in Washington, D. C. and will reside in West Los Angeles.

Blondes Aren't Preferred

Gentlemen prefer brunettes, a recent study of the hair color market indicates.

Forty-three per cent of the men queried said they favored brown-haired women. Only 17 per cent ranked blondes as their first choice. Red, black and gray hair trailed in that order.

A manufacturer of hair colorings (Helene Curtis) made the study to determine why more women elect to color their hair brown.

A second reason for the popularity of brown, the study indicated, is that this is the natural hair color of the greatest number of women in America.

Of all women using hair color, 70 per cent do so just to cover sprouting gray hair, the study showed.

Rosemary and David McDonald, who have been houseguesting with the Phil Regans, left this weekend for Florida, where he is attending a meeting, but expect to be back before too long.

On Sunday night, the Regans entertained a small group honoring Gov. and Mrs. John A. Volpe of Boston. In the group which gathered first at the Regans' Miral-este home, were the Paul Burkharts, who were leaving the next day for their home in New Jersey and Virginia and Charlie Farrell, who were hosting a dinner party of their own that night.

Other guests, who went on to the Racquet Club for dinner, included Marion and Clarence Brown and the Co Thorntons.

Every December as the holiday season draws near Villagers make the trek along Palm Canyon Drive curious to see if Bess Bender has succeeded in topping last year's Christmas tree... and each year she manages to do it again. No one who saw them is likely to forget the rare beauty of her rose trimmed tree, or the lavender tree decorated with bunches of violets, but this year's is a complete and subtle surprise, which blends tones with the mural which is new this year.

The beautifully shaped tree has been sprayed a heavenly blue, tied with blue satin bows, decorated with 56 bunches of chrysanthemums and strung with crystal beads, hooked with hundreds of jewel drops of crystal and pearl and rhinestone.

And, it's as expensive as it looks, for Bess estimates it cost around $400, not counting her own time and talent.

Andrea's tree, is hung with huge purple baubles this year, and there's a charming tree fashioned of yellow and gold chrysanthemums and ribbons, that sprouts a crystal chandelier, in the window of Beebe's.

Different, ingenious and quite effective are the ball-decorated ribbon trees in the windows at Rob-

Elegant Snack From Artichokes And Cheese Dip

NEW YORK (UPI) — Treat holiday guests to an elegant hors d'oeuvre — artichokes with cheese dip.

Wash 4 artichokes. Trim stems to 1 inch, pull off tough outer leaves and cut off tips of remaining leaves with scissors. Place in 1 inch boiling water to which has been added 1½ teaspoons of lemon juice for each artichoke. Sprinkle each with ¼ teaspoon of salt. Cover tightly. Cook 20 to 45 minutes, or until stems can be pierced easily with fork. Time depends on size of artichoke. Drain immediately by turning artichokes upside down. Chill.

Make dip by combining 1 (8-ounce) package of cream cheese, softened, with 2 teaspoons of lemon juice, 1 tablespoon each of prepared horseradish and dehydrated parsley flakes and 2 tablespoons of grated parmesan cheese. Beat until smooth.

The lights are on in Lily Pons' "dream house" up on the hilltop, as she rests and studies for her Jan. 3 performance with the Dallas Symphony.

The diva has been very busy, flying to San Francisco for a concert last month, and to New York and Tulsa, and other places. She loves her new home in Dallas and calls it "the most progressive city in the United States," but she still adores her little "dream house" and plans to return again in the spring. She will be here for a month but, "just to rest and work."

Governor and Mrs. Pat Brown spent a quiet and restful weekend at LaQuinta, arriving there late Friday night, and spending most of Saturday and Sunday on the adjacent golf links at LaQuinta Country Club.

Saturday evening they were entertained at a dinner party hosted by Col. Courtney Turner of San Francisco (principal owner of La Quinta Hotel), who had as his other guests, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Stans of Los Angeles, Col. John Elsbach of Los Angeles (another of the hotel's owners), Ann Peppers and Karl Loeb and members of the Governor's staff. The Stans, with their three youngsters, Maureen, Terri and Ted, were among other weekend guests at the hotel. Stans was director of the budget under the Eisenhower administration.

There's a new album out that Villagers will be interested in, and it would make a wonderful Christmas gift for children. Called "Gracie's Children's Songs" it has 30 songs, with all the music and all the lyrics by Grace Burgess, and with the narration by her sister Fay Bainter Venable. They are sung by a charming young singer named Virginia Gibson.

Gracie, who is at the Vaughan Arms, has another album coming out next month. Her only regret is that her daughter Dorothy Burgess, who was a bright Hollywood star in her day, is no longer here to share the joy of her achievement. They had looked forward to this day for so long.

Still stage-struck, Sally O'Neil, who's been dealing in desert real estate, found the lure of the land wasn't as great as the lure of the theater. A motion picture star when movies were better than ever, Sally leaves for New York and the Great White Way on Dec. 10.

Charles Irwin to Appear On Panhellenic Program

Noted actor, writer and raconteur, who has been a Palm Springs resident for seven years, Charles Irwin will be featured on the afternoon program, when Coachella Valley Panhellenic meets at the Ranch Club for a 12:30 luncheon on Dec. 14.

From his years on Broadway, some 105 motion pictures, and his appearances throughout the English speaking world, the beloved actor has a wealth of material upon which to draw. In his witty presentation, he reflects his Belfast, Ireland origin.

Mrs. Arnold Rumwell, program chairman, will introduce him. The luncheon, which will feature Christmas greens and pine cones from the Randall Hendersons' mountain home, will be hosted by members of Chi Omega, national social sorority, one of the 31 such groups, whose members are eligible for Panhellenic.

Mrs. Cornelius Maffie of Palm Springs, Mrs. Randall Henderson of Palm Desert, or Mrs. Leland

Yost of Thermal, may be telephoned for reservations. According to Panhellenic President Mrs. Gerald Fostvedt the present membership of 150 draws from Mecca, Thermal, Indio, Palm Desert, Cathedral City and Palm Springs, and at the December meeting new members will be welcomed from the desert's newest community Palm City.

Thomas Begg, designer of men's headwear, has created a fur topper for fall that, from the standpoint of bulk, will offer the bouffant female hairdo some bushy competition. Called fur fun, the topping is made of raccoon and designed in the hunting cap tradition.

Deb Ball Will Be Held in The Mediterranean Room

Announcement was made today that the fourth annual Deb Ball on the evening of Dec. 15, will be held in the Mediterranean Room of the Palm Springs Riviera. The Debs in their formal gowns, and their white-jacketed escorts will dance until midnight.

Something new this year will be the programmed dances, with dance programs filled out in advance. Highlight will be the traditional Father - Daughter Dance, just before each Deb is escorted by her father to receive her Deb pin, which will be awarded by Mayor Frank Bogert.

Dancing will start at 8 p.m. and continue to 12, with an intermission at 10 for the awarding of the pins and for taking souvenir pictures of each Deb with her father.

Chairmen of the Ball are two of the Deb Patronesses Mrs. Lester Selig and Mrs. Walter McManus, assisted by the other Patronesses Mmes. Carl Schooss, George Berkey, Robert Backstrom, Joel Stone, and the Debs Honorary Advisor Hilly Crawford, all of whom, with their husbands, will be in the receiving line, along with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Brown, of the sponsoring Chamber of Commerce.

Honorary Deb Mrs. Austin McManus, civic and school officials and the parents of the Debs will be honored guests at this formal affair, which is the big event of the holiday season for the high school set.

Two special door prizes, one for a Deb and one for a boy, will be memberships in the North Shore Beach & Yacht Club, proffered by Club Manager Bob Taliaferro, who helped stage the first Deb Ball, held at the Desert Inn. For the past two years the Ball was held at the Tennis Club, and last year's was themed "Stairway to The Stars."

Turkeys Named After Peacocks

The turkeys that grace our Christmas boards do not take their name from the country, Turkey. They're believed to be named for India, because the first turkeys arrived in Spain at a time when the New World was thought to be connected with India. The Spanish thought the turkey was a peacock, which in India's Tamil language is "toka." Jewish merchants in Spain converted the Tamil word to the Hebrew "tukki" and this was eventually Anglicized into "turkey."

MR. AND MRS. MAURICE STANS discuss a current magazine article while relaxing on the porch of their bungalow, "San Isidro," at La Quinta Hotel. Holiday Fashions Shown to Desert Legal Secretaries

Setting the holiday mood for the first annual fashion show luncheon given by the Desert Legal Secretaries, tables in the beautiful dining room of Oasis Hotel were decorated with clusters of red berries, red and green candles, gold gilt Christmas trees and a jolly Santa Claus.

The dining room was filled with members and guests, who enjoyed a delicious luncheon and viewed the style show "Fashions for a Desert Holiday," staged by Mancini's Resort Fashions and modeled by Harry Conover School of Charm Models.

Lila Hodgen, president, introduced the special guests, Patricia Brady of Beverly Hills, state president of Legal Secretaries; Eve Brooks, president of the San Fernando Valley Legal Secretaries; Mrs. Merrill Brown, wife of Judge Merrill Brown of the Superior Court at Indio; and Mrs. Saul Ruskin, president of the local group of Attorney's Wives.

Chairman for the luncheon style show was Rosella Stoddard, chairman of the club's ways and means committee, who was assisted by Lila Hodgen, and the following committee members, Linda Hoftyzer, Susie Hubbard, Catherine Wood, Ruth Johannsson, Charlene Treatch and Mildred Wegner, publicity chairman.

The many prizes given away were contributed by: Adrians, Bar-Jan Hats, Coachella Valley Savings & Loan, El Mirador Beauty Salon, Hailmark Card Castle, Lila Mae Beauty Salon, Lindy Lou Pancake House, Mancini Resort Fashions, Palm Springs Drug, Palm Springs Spa, North Shore Beach & Yacht Club, Pavy's, Ray's Shop for Men, Rose of Beverly Beauty Salon, Roma Imported Delicacies, Senate Lounge of President Hotel, Village Pet Shop, Village Pharmacy, Warren Imports, Western Auto Supply and Vincent's Beauty Salon.

Television in Review

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI)—The NBC-TV news special, "Japan: East West," used some clever, entertaining photography and commentary to make a stale point. Perhaps a more valuable inspiration for the project would have been the working title, "Period of Adjustment."

Monday night's full-hour once-over-lightly for the land of the island kingdom, filmed in color last summer, set out to depict the social, cultural and economic revolutions that Japan and its 99 million inhabitants are undergoing.

Ed Newman, the narrator-reporter, told how Japan, with feudalism only about 50 years behind her, not to mention her World War II defeat, has climbed to the status of world industrial power No. 4. Much was made of her talent for attaching Western techniques, fads and foibles, often without any alteration or translation, to her own life.

The report made it clear that this national dynamism, despite startling and almost comical manifestations, also breeds domestic upheaval. Unfortunately, producer Lou Hazam's approach didn't get down to cases. I think they got their entertainment vs. information priorities mixed.

There was, anyhow, very little probing. Newman spoke of Japan's struggle to make its adjustment to its new status, but the major design of the program was to depict the superficial similarities between East and West.

Of course, with that in mind, the cameras were able to turn up many interesting scenes of contrast. Some Japanese women wear capri slacks. Others still wear the traditional kimono in public. We saw a home-grown version of Elvis Presley and also caught a glimpse of a traditional Noh drama. There was baseball, night clubs, "Disneyland," hot dogs and so on. Some of these items were covered by Newman in another NBC-TV news show about Japan that he aired last summer.

There were also some shots of Japan's more alluring landscape. I was happy to note that this was one made-in-Japan travelogue which shunned Mt. Fuji. But I was unhappy to note that the program shunned the subject of poverty, the slums of Tokyo and Osaka, the plight of the day laborer and the labor broker in all this upheaval.

In short, the study was pegged to the easy, obvious, crowd-pleasing and mildly chauvinistic approach. Not enough attention was devoted to the people of Japan and the forces controlling their reactions to their varied problems. A pretty show? Yes. An important show? No.

"I SAY THERE," explains Clifford Guest to protegee Elaine McKenna, Australian singer who makes her American debut in the Chi Chi Starlite Room. This performance was nominated as Australia's "Best TV Singer" of 1961. Guest, who brought her to America, is a ventriloquist and will appear on the Eleanor Powell Show Dec. 25 in the Starlite Room.

SUNAIR Family Reunion Marks Weekend for John Downs

SUNAIR — A family reunion was held Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Downs. Guests for the holiday weekend were Maj. and Mrs. J. R. Fauth and son Jimmy from Amarillo, Tex.; Don Fauth and his friend Sam Zito, who are stationed at the Long Beach Naval Base; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Thorne and children Jack, Mary, Lois and Bonnie from Fresno and Mrs. H. H. Parker of Pacific Grove.

New residents in Sunair are Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Knutson and daughter Sandy, who just moved here from New Orleans. Knutson, a chief warrant officer, will leave the end of the week for a tour of duty in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Chinn of Hemet spent the weekend with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen.

Enjoying a stay at the Sunair Terrace are Mr. and Mrs. William S. Cunningham from Los Angeles; Mrs. Alta Malben and Mrs. Ruth B. Brown from Glendale. Thanksgiving weekend guests included Miss Elaine Saal and her mother from Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Mason and children from North Hollywood; Dr. and Mrs. J. A. McAnis of Pasadena; Dr. and Mrs. Donald R. McAnis and children from Newport Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Dean McGaughey of Laguna Beach; Miss Millicent Polley and Miss Margaret Ward from Seal Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Peterson have arrived from their home in Boise, Idaho, and will spend another winter at their desert home on Melrose Drive.

Thanksgiving was a family day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Knutson and daughter Karen. They were joined by his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gil Knutson and son Gary, and their mother, Mrs. O. Knutson who is here to spend the winter.

At the Palos Verdes Apartments for the Thanksgiving weekend were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jolley and son Walter from Los Angeles; Capt. and Mrs. P. J. Casey from Palos Verdes Estates; Capt. and Mrs. J. ATROCITY TRIAL

Israeli Judges Will Tell Eichmann Case Verdict

By ELIAV SIMON

JERUSALEM (UPI)—A three-judge Israeli court will convene in a few days to deliver its verdict in the case of Adolf Eichmann, charged with crimes against the Jewish people and against humanity for the atrocities of Nazi Germany.

It is expected to take three days for the judges, reading in relays, to present their decision on each of the 15 counts against the former Gestapo officer. Twelve counts carry a possible death penalty on conviction.

Through the reading, Eichmann, who was for 15 years a fugitive, will be seated again in the same bullet-proof glass box he occupied during five months of trial sessions which ended Aug. 13.

Translators Told First Because of the unusual conditions of this extraordinary trial, a small group of men and women will learn the verdict in advance of the defendant. The translators, charged with rendering the 250-page decision in English, French, Spanish and German before the court meets, will be held under heavy police guard in a local hotel for the several days required to complete their work.

Eichmann will be returned to his cell in the improvised Jerusalem court building from Jalani prison near Haifa.

The court decision will be by majority vote of the three judges on each of the 15 counts; each count will be reviewed and the verdict announced separately, with a dissenting judge making any explanation of his decision he desires.

Possible verdicts include acquittal on all counts; a guilty verdict on a lesser count, which might carry a possible maximum sentence of 20 years imprisonment; or a guilty verdict on one or more major counts, which could result in a sentence to death.

In event of acquittal, the attorney general and chief prosecutor, Gideon Hausner, may ask a retrial. If his request is granted, Eichmann would be free, but forced to remain in Israel, until it begins. He may ask for, and will receive, police protection, according to Deputy State's Attorney Gideon Hausner.

Reaches 185 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. population will pass the 185 million mark today and about one person every 10.5 seconds until it reaches 200 million in 1980. Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges planned to commemorate the occasion in ceremonies near the census clock, an electric counter used to estimate U.S. population growth.

Page 68 THE DESERT SUN Wednesday, Dec. 6, 1961

The Tram Has All of Them Thinking

When The Desert Sun speculated in print the other day what the Mt. San Jacinto Aerial Tramway, which is its official name, would be called "for short," as people say in referring to nicknames, it really started something.

Written and verbal suggestions have been coming in ever since although there is nothing official about the quest. The Winter Park Authority, in charge of the giant project which is destined to become a major attraction not only for Palm Springs and the Desert Empire but for the entire state, has not officially or even off the record, said anything about seeking another name. They are content to use the legal name as progress on the great lift continues steadily.

But it is practically certain that when the Mt. San Jacinto Aerial Tramway is completed and in operation few, if any, of the many thousands who will come here to ride to the top, will recite the entire name in mapping their plans. It will acquire a shorter name which will become a household word all over the nation, just as Disneyland is across the country today. And that is what has stirred the imagination of local residents, caused them to write in, dial The Sun's telephone number or call in person. If the Winter Park Authority ever does seek another name, they will find a wide variety at hand.

They range from powerful short names with a punch right down to "Spreeway." The writer who submitted that one sent along an explanation. "People who take the ride are going to be high, aren't they?" he wrote.

There were many combinations of the words "sky" and "lift," along with "cable," "tram" and "aero." One man sent in ten good names with a postscript of an eleventh his wife suggested. Another contained eight suggestions. Many of them two or three. All of this with the contest, if it can be called that, entirely unofficial. The Winter Park Authority is so busy with all of the details of the start of construction of the Tramway that it hasn't reached the stage of thinking about what it will be called when complete.

One man telephoned to say that no matter what name is chosen, the $7 million plus Wonder of the West will be simply The Tramway. Or perhaps, just The Tram.

While there have been many fanciful names suggested such as Viewtopia, Desert Star Lift and others, some of them longer than the legal name, there is a strong ground swell for just one name. This one has been repeated many times on postcards, in letters, telephone calls and verbal suggestions.

Many claim it is the only logical name. It is one which will bring instant recognition around the world, according to one man. Another puts it more succinctly.

Guessing or dreaming up a name provides much fun and prods the imagination which is good, he says. But why try to think up a name, when, where ever the project is discussed which will be everywhere, he adds, it will be called just one name:

Palm Springs Tramway.

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

It's a pleasure sometimes to walk in the sand, but when sand turns to mud, it isn't so grand.

That man who sits in an Ivory Tower and writes those editorials which appear on this page, up there northwest of me, said the other day that the North Palm Canyon Drive Association was to be congratulated. Not only did they make the north entrance to the city prettier, but they pointed the way for other sections of the city to spruce up.

NOW, THAT'S a fine idea. Up there they put in sidewalks, so you don't have to kick up blow-sand with each step. I hope that points up the way for others, like the man said in his editorial.

There are some spots a lot closer to the heart of the town where you still have to shuffle along in a cloud of dust or walk in the street, defying motorists to smack you.

That's all right most of the year because many of our visitors believe that part of the fun in being on the desert is getting sand in your shoes. But sometimes it rains — and then it's not so good.

AS YOU PROBABLY know by now, I like the way new words are being put into our language. Just so they get the wanted idea expressed. Frequently, an editor trying to squeeze a big idea into the small space allotted for a headline, dreams up a new word with a punch.

For instance, when an airplane was taken over at gunpoint and flown to Havana, the Detroit Free Press editors headlined it "Skyjacked."

WELL, WHY NOT? During the prohibition era when one gang stole a rival gang's load of illegal hooch, editors called it "hijacking" because it happened on the highways.

So what is more logical? The plane was taken over in the skyways, wasn't it?

Which reminds me that an editor once laid me out with fancy words for using the expression "at gunpoint."

"A gun hasn't got a point, you dim-wit," he growled.

NOT ONLY hard-pressed editors, fighting time and space, put new hard-working words into the language but kids also invent words which make sense when analyzed. They do it so that they can get more words into the day. Like Sue Raymond was telling me about her three-year-old daughter who, when the sand was flying, said it's "wind-ing." (Short "i", please.)

Well, don't we say "it's raining" when the skies drip? So why not "it's winding." (Short "i" again, please) when the wind blows?

YOU'D THINK a guy was offensively pedantic if he habitually said "the rain is falling" instead of "it's raining" the way the rest of us do.

That's the second time I've quoted Sue in a week. Better lay off. People might start talking.

Besides, it looks as if I'd botched the page so will period.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: What is this world coming to? I was shocked when my daughter's girl friend told me that last summer their priest put on bathing trunks and went swimming with the church choir! Also that he removes his collar and wears sports clothes on fishing trips, outings and picnics. Whether Roman Catholic, Episcopalian or any faith, are they permitted to do such things? Please comment, Abby. And perhaps the clergy would like to explain themselves. —MRS. SHOCKED

DEAR MRS. SHOCKED: You have a "short" in your thinking. I don't know of any diocese or religious order that requires priests to wear clerical clothes at all places, under all circumstances. Such decisions are left to the discretion of the priest. I have never heard of any objections to a priest wearing a sport shirt while on a picnic, an outing or fishing. And you certainly can't expect him to go for a swim in his collar!

DEAR ABBY: My husband died in mid-summer. Would it be in poor taste to send Christmas cards or send gifts this year? —WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: Certainly not. Those in mourning should not withhold their good wishes to others.

DEAR ABBY: Am I wrong to tell my 14-year-old freshman daughter that she does "not" have to accept a date with the first boy who asks her? She insists that if she refuses the first boy, she cannot accept a date for that night at all!

On several occasions she has accepted a date with the first boy who asked her, and has been sorry because an hour later a boy she wanted to go with asked her. There were times when she turned down a date because she didn't care for the boy, and when a boy she really liked asked her, she turned him down, too, because she had already refused the first one. Please straighten this out. She won't listen to me. —MRS. B.

DEAR MRS. B.: A girl need "not" stay home if she rejects the first boy who asks her out. Boys choose the dates they want, and girls have the privilege of accepting or declining. However, if a girl "accepts" a date with a boy (a drip or a dream) she must either go with him or stay home.

DEAR ABBY: I came home from a football game and put my binoculars on the table. Just for the fun of it I picked them up and started looking out the window at the apartment building across the way. Into focus came another man, looking directly at "me" through a pair of binoculars! My heart almost stopped beating. Now I am wondering what kind of a nut lives so near to me. Should I call the police? —MORT

DEAR MORT: Why not give him the benefit of the doubt? He may be as normal as you. Strange how, when the speck is on one's own nose, it is a "beauty mark" — but on someone else's, it's a mole.

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of this paper.

BOB CONSIDINE:

Ty Cobb Was Sorry But He'd Do It Over Again

NEW YORK—Not long before he signed off, the immortal Ty Cobb dropped in to see his friend Lawton Carver, newsman-restaurateur-sportsman. Cobb was very blue. After a couple of drinks he became bluer than blue. "I haven't got a friend in baseball," he said, as the tears began to come. "And you know why, Lawton. I cut 'em whenever they got in my way. I kicked them, I gouged them, I did everything to them—to win those ball games. Now look at me. Friendless, absolutely friendless."

Carver let him weep for a time, then said, "Ty, if you had your life to live over again would you do all those things?"

Cobb stopped the tears, blew his nose, glared at Lawton like an eagle and swore: "You're dam' right I would!"

Distorted Image

Inn-keeper Conrad Hilton, speaking on the changing image of Uncle Sam abroad, recently told a conclave of public relations men:

"With the second world war came absolute world leadership. With its conclusion we accepted and pursued that leadership with distinction, in a fashion never before seen in human history. The Marshall Plan, the point-four program, the constant, unremitting assistance to all the world should have given us the highest prestige, the most splendid image. But did it? Through the eyes of Europe, Asia and Africa, even South America, the face of America was seen distorted with lines of selfishness, self-interest and economic colonialism."

"... There are 111 nations in the world today. More than half of them are betting on Soviet Russia to come out on top... Why? Because they have done a better public relations job across the world than we have. We have grown used to our vision and have neglected our obligation to extend that vision to the world. The Communists, on the other hand, are running across the world shouting the 'Good news' of a state revolution."

"Marxism has had nothing to do with the industrial and technical progress of the Communist nations. Marx gave them the strategy or revolution, which is breaking down under 20th century scrutiny and experience. Lenin gave them the tactics of revolution. But it was Henry Ford—as far removed from communism as is possible—who supplied the logistics. Without industrialization, the revolution would not have got off the ground. Ford's assembly line of production and distribution, geared to power, accuracy, economy, continuity, system, speed and repetition is what put teeth into the Lenin-Trotsky-Stalin revolution."

Huge Soviet Hoax

"The horrendous joke is really on us that the Soviet public relations machine has perpetrated such a huge hoax on the world."

I am not denying their technical industrial progress, I commend them for it. But that Marxism had anything to do with it is absurd."

Hilton concluded with a fireworks display of challenging statistics:

"There are in the world today about three billion people. More than two out of three are colored. In the year 2000 there will be about seven billion people, and only one in five will be white. If Russia and China are criteria, by the year 2000 all the nations of Asia and Africa will be industrialized and possessed of tremendous power."

"We must prove to them in the 40-year interval that we can all live together as brothers, no matter our race, color or belief. We should learn to live with them as brothers if there were only 100 colored in the world. But if we do not, I promise you they will rise in their might as the oppressed peoples rose against Rome and utterly destroy us in their vengeance."

QUOTES

HOLLYWOOD — Dan Blocker, who plays the role of "Hoss" Cartwright on the TV program "Bonanza," on the Hollywood trend away from handsome leading men:

"I'm right glad I ain't handsome. If I was, I wouldn't be playing 'Hoss' right now."

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Former President Truman at a Democratic fund-raising dinner:

"There is a certain amount of editorial bias on the part of the press which contributes to obscuring the facts."

MERAUKE, New Guinea—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, on leaving the search for his son:

"We have to face the facts that the chances are very greatly diminished and it will be a miracle if Michael is alive... We are hoping against hope for some word."

GENEVA — Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin, arriving with the Russians' latest nuclear test ban proposal:

"It is very difficult to be optimistic here, but I hope we will be successful."

WASHINGTON — Government cancer expert Dr. Michael B. Shimkin, urging control of cigarette advertising and sales to children:

"Our lungs were not made to inhale partially combusted vegetable matter."

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Integration leader Martin Luther King, after letters threatening his life were received by a local newspaper:

"I get threatening letters every day, so this isn't anything new."

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

President Kennedy Growing in Stature

WASHINGTON, D. C. — President Kennedy, to this observer, has made two significant jumps in development as a world statesman, and requires only the third to reach an eminence which he, as an historian would admire.

The first leap upward occurred this time last year when he made the transition from candidate to President-elect, taking on (to those of us who saw him come and go at his red brick Georgetown home) a poise and aura almost as if he had been touched with whatever celestial light falls upon the true rulers of men.

The second increase of stature has taken place during 1961 and is visible and audible in virtually every public appearance that he makes. Mr. Kennedy, whatever the political judgment upon him, has acquired a well-nigh incredible knowledge of the politics, economy, military strength, legislative history and living conditions of Americans, as well as of the world's personalities, problems, geography and politics. It just doesn't seem possible that another man in the USA has as many facts in his head as Mr. Kennedy, files them more neatly, or uses them more articulately. He is the First Citizen in this most praiseworthy, significant sense.

There's Still Something Yet something impedes him from being the surpassingly great leader which he gives every appearance of being. Leaving the press conference of November 29th, many reporters were commenting on the hardness and vigor of his responses to so many diverse, difficult questions. But one reporter, not this one, best epitomized, in one sentence, what we all had seen.

"He's a great performer," was the remark.

Here, as others have noted in different ways, is why Mr. Kennedy, in the opinion of almost all who see him, still misses the thing he strives for—true greatness. He is a magnificent performer, gives a marvelous appearance, speaks with eloquence, answers questions with good grammar and pertinent reference, displays a universal knowledge that would be admirable in a sage. All is there, with one exception, which the following sequence will illustrate.

Over the Thanksgiving weekend the President said this to A. I. Adzhubei, editor of the Russian publication "Izvestia."

Kennedy: "What we object to is the attempt to impose Communism by force, or a situation where once a people have fallen under Communism, the Communists do not give them a fair opportunity to make another choice... The peoples of Eastern Europe do not, in our opinion, today, have a free choice."

Four Days Later

But only four days later the President fielded this question. Reporter: "... I wonder if you could tell us how this criterion would apply to Finland where, apparently, the only anti-Soviet candidate to President Kekkonen has been pressured into retiring from the race."

Mr. Kennedy: "I think the general thesis which I expressed on Saturday still stands... I would prefer to make that as a general statement rather than apply it to any particular country..."

Well—heaven preserve us! Here is the American President, Free World leader, potentially the statesman of statesmen in this half-century, who favors political freedom in "general thesis" and "as a general statement," but will not favor Finnish freedom at a time when the Finns are being swindled out of it.

Mr. Kennedy's failure, if I dare call it that, is compounded by all the fine qualities and rounded knowledge that are at his command. He knows that Finland has been shoved into holding what amounts to a one-party, one-candidate, pro-Soviet election for its presidency. And Mr. Kennedy does a swift bout of generalized shadow-boxing around a very real specific subject.

Communists, Satellites Use U.N. as Spy Cover

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fifth in a series of editorials from the Rockford, Ill., Morning Star, printed for study and personal evaluation by readers of The Desert Sun.

Official reports of the U.S. Senate Internal Security subcommittee for the past 10 years contain ample evidence that Russia and its Communist satellites use the United Nations as a cover for carrying out espionage in this country. Since U.N. was established in New York, the United States government has had to request expulsion of more than 30 iron curtain diplomats and U.N. representatives for spying.

Documentary evidence traces the origin of this massive subversion system back to World War II years. The Institute of Pacific Relations, described by the Internal Security subcommittee in 1952 as "an instrument of Communist policy, propaganda and military intelligence," was active in preliminary conferences which led to establishment of U.N. in 1945.

Among the institute's active members were Owen Lattimore, Laughlin Currie, and Philip Jessup. Lattimore, who worked to undermine Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalists, succeeded in exalting the status of the Chinese Reds. Currie is dispensing U.S. foreign aid in Colombia as an agent of Colombia, and Jessup is the U.S. judge on the International Court of Justice.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has repeatedly warned that Communist espionage activity has increased steadily in the United States during the past 15 years—the period in which Russia and its Red satellites have sent their top spies to the U.N. to serve in the guise of clerks, secretaries and messengers. These Communist agents have diplomatic immunity; have access to maps, photographs and other information; and can travel with little restriction on their movement.

Just last June, the United States demanded expulsion of Miroslav Nacvalac, No. 3 man in Czechoslovakia's U.N. delegation. Faced with a full-scale investigation of U.N.-based Red espionage, Czechoslovakia recalled Nacvalac home. The Czech diplomat obtained classified information from an American government worker by threatening that the government employee's finance in Czechoslovakia would be prevented from joining him in the United States.

Admission of Red China to the U.N., a subject soon to come before the General Assembly, would open the door to another ring of Communist spies — and would also facilitate Peiping's vicious traffic in narcotics in this country.

Pavl Bang-Jensen, the Danish diplomat whose death two years ago in New York is widely regarded as murder at the hands of Russian spies, attempted to warn the United States in 1956 and later that the U.N. Secretariat is extensively infiltrated by Communist agents. Bang-Jensen refused to turn over to his superiors the names of Hungarian witnesses who testified to U.N. investigators on Soviet suppression of Hungary's freedom fighters.

Americans have little doubt that members of Communist delegations to the United Nations have used their diplomatic immunity to achieve marked success in stealing vital information from free world governments. Russia and its satellites have at least five times as many Soviet nations attached to U.N. headquarters in New York as the United States has at its embassy in Moscow. Wives of Communist diplomats serve as cipher experts, contacts and even as agents of MVD, the Soviet secret police.

Just last July, Edward Hunter, author of "Brainwashing in Red China," told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that "the Moscow - Peiping - through - Havana axis maintains a clandestine warfare planning and operational section directly dealing with the United States . . . This Red operational group, made up of persons with diplomatic entry in Washington and at the United Nations . . . watched the anti-Communist movement grow in grass roots manner, and fast, and saw it reach sizable proportions."

Confronted by the awakening of many Americans to the menace of communism, the Reds in this country are now aggressively waging an "anti-anti-Communist drive" aimed at weakening and confusing United States citizens.

The United States has waged an unrelenting fight to stamp out Communist subversion of government — in Washington, in the states, in every level of government. The presence of embassies and consulates of iron curtain countries has given the Reds a foothold. But since 1945, at Flushing Meadows on Long Island and at U.N.'s imposing headquarters on Manhattan, the Reds have had the biggest base of all from which to direct their operations.

Statement on Trees Stirs British Ire

By HARRY FERGUSON

LONDON (UPI)—It started with what seemed to be a harmless statement by her majesty's forestry commission that for certain purposes the American oak tree (quercus rubra) was superior to the British oak (quercus robur).

Tree lovers of Britain—and that comprises total population—flew into a rage that may shake the foundations of the Anglo-American alliance.

The crisis centers on Sherwood Forest where Robin Hood and his merry men put the television industry into their eternal debt hundreds of years ago by acting out short plays without the benefit of camera, script or director.

Her majesty's forestry experts proposed to start planting American oak trees in Sherwood Forest and this is the statement that set the winds of controversy howling: "The English oak needs sheltered and secluded spots. The American oak will flourish in poor, sandy soil and grows taller and quicker."

It was inevitable that British tree lovers would bare their fangs and leap at the throat of her majesty's commission. The only question was which one would get there first. The honor went to Sir Shane Leslie, 76, chairman of an organization known as "The Men of Trees" and cousin of Sir Winston Churchill.

Sir Shane's organization is dedicated to the preservation of British forests and in his opinion the greatest piece of legislation ever passed by parliament is a 100-year-old law making it an offense to cut down a sapling, especially with "intent to steal."

"Proposes Test

"Absolute nonsense," roared Sir Shane at the forestry commission. "Nothing can be better than an English oak which has evolved in Sherwood Forest for thousands of years. If the people responsible for this irresponsible proposal would like to test it, let us plant an English oak and an American one side by side. Then in 500 years we will know who is right."

It was suggested to Sir Shane that the forestry commission might not want to delay its decision for 500 years.

"Precisely," he replied. "They are trying to rush this thing through willy-nilly because they know only too well that time is on my side."

At this writing her majesty's forestry commission has gone into secret session.

Winds Topple Tree
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — A 55-foot-high Christmas tree in Memorial Square was blown over Monday night when wind gusts of 40 miles per hour swept through the city. The giant soruce was bedecked with 12,500 lights, 500 balls and bells, gold garland and four-foot candy canes.

IMPROPERLY DRESSED

HUDSON, N.H. (UPI) — John Gurley hoisted shovel to shoulder and went seeking snow removal work.

Two passing motorists, who apparently thought his dress improper for the job, returned the 3-year-old boy to his home early Tuesday still wearing his undershorts, hat and slippers.
